GREENLEAF
VILLAGE

Detached bungalow living in Simcoe, Norfolk County.

WELCOME TO GREENLEAF VILLAGE

Life feels good here.

Start the day with a walk. Pick up something fresh for dinner. Leave an afternoon open for the lake. In Norfolk County, there are plenty of ways to make an ordinary day a good one.

At the corner of Decou Road and Ireland Road in Simcoe, Greenleaf Village brings detached bungalow living to a setting that connects town and country. Shops and everyday essentials are nearby, with Norfolk's trails, farm markets and Lake Erie shoreline giving you more to explore.

Put down roots somewhere that offers more than a new address. Find a place to enjoy the life you're building.

THE LYNN VALLEY TRAIL

Take the scenic way.

An after-dinner stroll. A morning bike ride. A little time outdoors with no particular hurry.

The Lynn Valley Trail connects Simcoe and Port Dover along a former railway route, passing through woodlands, open countryside and river scenery. Its ten kilometres and four historic trestle bridges offer plenty to discover, whether you're out for a short walk or a longer ride.

With access points on Decou Road and Ireland Road, it's a local escape you can make part of your routine.

Neighbourhood

Simcoe is a town you can get to know, one favourite stop at a time. A shop you like to browse. The farmers' market for something fresh. A walk through the park before heading home.

Alongside that local character are the practical things that make a move feel right: schools, grocery stores, shopping and Norfolk General Hospital. It's the pleasure of living in an established town, with everyday needs close at hand.

PORT DOVER HARBOUR

LIFE BY LAKE ERIE

Make room for lake days.

Some of the best plans start with, “Let’s head to the lake.” In Port Dover, spend an afternoon on the beach, stroll the pier and find a spot for lunch. At Turkey Point, pack a picnic and settle in for a day on the sand.

Whether it’s a full day at the beach or a sunset walk by the water, Lake Erie is never far away.

LONG POINT

Sand, birdlife and open water.

PORT DOVER

Harbour views and lakeside lunches.

TURKEY POINT

Leave an afternoon for the beach.

DISCOVER LONG POINT

Worth making a day of.

For days when you feel like exploring, make your way to Long Point. A stretch of sandy beach, open water and big skies offers a different side of Norfolk County.

Within the UNESCO-designated Long Point Biosphere Reserve, the provincial park is a place for beach walks, birdwatching and time by Lake Erie. Bring a picnic, watch for migrating birds in spring and autumn, or simply settle in and enjoy the view.

Nearby at Turkey Point, Long Point Eco-Adventures offers nature and kayak tours, yoga, stargazing and glamping, with plenty to explore beyond the beach.

This is one more reason to live in Norfolk: places worth making a day of, without needing to make a holiday of it.

Good things grow here.

In Norfolk County, local food is part of the pleasure of living here. From fresh asparagus and summer berries to pumpkins for the front step, the countryside brings something new to look forward to throughout the growing season.

Visit the Simcoe Farmers’ Market on a Thursday, stop at a roadside farm stand, or bring home something grown just down the road. Riversyde 83, the community food hub at 83 Sydenham Street, adds a café, a local foods marketplace and a teaching kitchen. The county’s farming roots are easy to appreciate when you’re choosing what’s for dinner.

ASPARAGUS

A fresh seasonal favourite.

GINSENG
